

COUNTY DEMOS SLAP HUNT POLICIES; A MERRY SCRAP

Endorsing George W. P. Hunt for governor, and slapping some of his pet policies, the county central committee of the democrats proceeded to get under way yesterday. In the platform and upon the floor of the meeting, the expressions of the democratic party of Maricopa county plainly indicated that while the ax has been ostensibly buried by the leaders, the rank and file, and indeed, many of the principal workers, still harbor gronches as a result of the late Hunt-and-anti-Hunt primary fight.

In the first place, just to show that it did not need to heed the wishes of the county candidates, the committee elected George Purdy Bullard, chairman and M. Joe Murphy, secretary. By beating Ira H. S. Huggert by ten votes for temporary secretary, the anti-Hunt forces demonstrated their strength, and then, when the permanent organization was formed, they became good fellows and concurred in all three selections of the would-be making Curt W. Miller of Tempe chairman, Ira Huggert secretary and Mattie Williams treasurer.

The meeting was called to order by Frank Trotter, secretary of the old organization in the hall of the house of representatives in the state house.

The platform committee consisted of Bullard, I. D. Shambart and W. Tom Smith, and what they did to the administration in the weird document they produced, was a plenty, as will be demonstrated, by its perusal in these columns. Smith offered an additional plank, pledging the county legislative candidates to support a measure prohibiting the use of convict labor on the roads. In other words, his plank was a bottle of acid, with which to test the committee, as to its opinions on Mr. Hunt's prison policy. He lost the plank, but not because the anti-Hunt forces were unable to sus-tain it and nail it securely in place. The division did not follow the usual lines.

Argument and recrimination of a most entertaining sort followed Smith's introduction of his plank. Mr. Bullard, who was known as a good roads enthusiast, came in for considerable abuse, being nicknamed after the railroad for which he is attorney, by one facetious speaker. It was also said that while Mr. Bullard was attorney general, and should have been delving into law books, he spent considerable time motorizing about and asking Mr. Moer, for instance, to hurry up and build some more roads for him to drive over.

So, with such lightsome words, the contest seethed, until most of the committee got lost in a sea of parliamentary and unparliamentary usage, and it took all hands to rescue the order of business from the waves.

The following were named to the state central committee, which meets Thursday, after another series of contests, in which the forces of the administration, and their opponents fought manfully for places, the anti-winning 29 out of the 13 members:

Frank Jordan, Sentinel; O. L. Pickens, John Wallace, Mesa; W. R. Reddon, R. H. Mauer, Tempe; W. F. Bravner, H. P. Hegele, W. P. Doherty, C. D. Boyce, J. T. Murphy, R. L. Wilkerson, J. J. Cox, Harry Johnson, G. P. Bullard, Leon Jacobs, R. G. Langmade, Phoenix; George P. Cocke, Arlington; James Johnson, Lehi; Dr. E. D. Rowell, Gilbert; Clarence Wiggs, Osborn; W. L. Teel, Osborn; W. O. Moore, Laveen; Chas. Miller, Scottsdale; Jerry Doyle,

Six Points; G. J. Stoneman, Los Olivos; W. M. Brawner, Murphy; T. T. Powers, Creighton, Committeeman-at-large, M. Joe Murphy; county chairman, Curt W. Miller, ex-officio member.

The amazing platform of the democrats of Maricopa county is as follows: We, the Democratic County Central Committee of Maricopa County, in regular session assembled, do declare that we endorse the magnificent administration of Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, pointing with pride to the able manner with which he has guided public affairs during his incumbency in office, and kept this country from being embroiled in the conflict of nations, which is devastating homes and impoverishing people.

We endorse the damination of the Honorable George W. P. Hunt, and other democratic state officials, who have ably administered the affairs of the state of Arizona during the past two years. We call attention to the fact that public affairs in the County of Maricopa have been ably and economically administered in the hands of democratic officials for the past ten years, and promise that if the nominees upon the democratic ticket are elected to office, said affairs will be ably and economically administered in the future.

We declare that the democratic party of Maricopa County believes in the protection of all persons and all classes of property within the state of Arizona. We are unalterably opposed to the granting of special privileges, but we believe in the enactment of such laws as will encourage investment in the state of Arizona, and the development of her great resources, and we condemn the enactment of that class of legislation which favors any one particular class, and has a tendency to array class against class, and we pledge our candidates to the Legislature of the State of Arizona to the enactment of such safe and sane legislation as will equally protect the rights of all the people, and the rights of all property within the State of Arizona.

We declare ourselves opposed to reactionary republicanism on the one part, and destructive socialism on the other, and declare that the Democratic Party of Maricopa County stands for true progressivism, which does not embrace the doctrines of either above mentioned classes.

We declare that the Democratic Party of Maricopa County is in favor of an economical administration of governmental affairs, both state and county, and we pledge our candidates to the Legislature to vote against all measures which shall have any tendency to increase the burden of taxation, or the establishment of any further commissions.

We are in favor of the strict enforcement of the prohibition and all other penal laws of the state.

OLNEY MENTIONED AS CHAIRMAN MAYBE

It may be that there is no dearth of deserving democrats, or it may be that such democrats as there are, lack no perseverance in pushing their claims, but true it is that very few jobs go around anxiously seeking the man. Reference is made to the chairmanship of the state central committee, who will be chosen at the Thursday meeting.

For a time, it looked as though the Hunt forces, should they dominate the committee, would insist on the selection of Frank Duffy the governor's defeated candidate for the supreme bench. Now, however, it appears that Judge Duffy will decline the honor, if it is tendered him, pleading the stress of business. In his stead, Frank Curley, Dr. B. B. Moer of Tempe and George J. Stoneman of Los Olivos are prominently mentioned.

But the surprise package is the quiet press agent work of the friends of George Olney, who are mysteriously hinting that he may be made head of the democratic arrangements committee. It is doubtful that Mr. Olney seeks the job, for in case of losing the state, he would be largely blamed, and in case of victory, his thanks might be small. Still, it is policy for his boosters to make it appear he has a chance for the hint may be taken in the right quarters and grow up into a man-sized offer. Certain it is that if Mr. Olney were still in opposition to the governor, he could be said to have won a majority of the Maricopa delegates to the state central committee. If Hunt's leaders consider policy of the salvage style, they may offer the chairmanship to their late distinguished opponent. If Hunt's enemies boss the committee, they may turn the job over to Mr. Olney just as a matter of legitimate and, in fact, possibly very valuable spoil.

T. T. Powers, Hunt leader in Maricopa county is mentioned, along with Secretary McDonald, of the Cochise county committee, for the position of secretary.

P. H. S. STUDENTS BOOST FOR PAPER

A big assembly was held during the fifth period yesterday afternoon to boost the Coyote paper.

Several students took the platform and eloquently argued the cause of the paper.

James Bell in his striking oration explained how difficult it really was to edit a newspaper. He was followed by Earl Remo. Mr. Remo must be highly complimented on the way he talked. It was his first appearance on the High School rostrum.

It was announced that a big campaign for the paper will be held during the fourth hour. Each and every student is requested to bring one "seed" for a year's subscription.

Mr. Elliott closed the day's session with his same old humorous speech and was more than appreciated by the student body. He commented on the files, comparatively speaking, saying that the files sure stuck together and sure get results.

JAMES H. MCCLINTOCK HEADS COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Col. James H. McClintock, compromise candidate for chairman of the republican county central committee, elected by acclamation yesterday, proved a regular old sheet of wholesome information when he went to the platform and accepted the gavel from the temporary chairman, A. R. Gatter. As a restorer of harmony, he was a rich strike, justifying further explanation, and even the erection of a reduction works.

That the republicans of this largest county in one of the two pivotal states are fortunately situated this year, in that they will have the aid of every factor in the campaign, from the national right down the line to the county workers, was the statement of Col. McClintock. It was a time, he said, when, in selecting a hard-working newspaperman for chairman, it would be necessary for every member of the committee to consider himself obligated as a hard working assistant. The campaign could not be waged and won by watching the other fellow charge around doing things. It was the individual worker who, collectively, could add the great strength to the ticket.

Following his short, but very forceful talk, the colonel received the heartiest applause, together with sincere expressions of appreciation of his little scolding, and his successful effort to flatten out the tendency toward belligerency displayed earlier in the meeting.

A credentials committee reported at the close of the morning session in the K. P. hall, seating the delegates, and formulating the first official list of the committeemen by precincts. It was found that in some remote precincts, no republican committeemen had been elected in the primaries, so these vacancies were filled by the passage of a motion, qualifying the holdovers as members of the new committee.

In the afternoon, the delegates, and formulating the first official list of the committeemen by precincts. It was found that in some remote precincts, no republican committeemen had been elected in the primaries, so these vacancies were filled by the passage of a motion, qualifying the holdovers as members of the new committee.

All sorts of names were suggested but none was decided upon.

Consequently, the meeting opened, with the very obvious look of two war-like camps. Both Parker and Gatter, however, had expressed a willingness to draw down, if a third man, satisfactory to both sides, could be found.

Harold Baxter reported the recommendation of the county candidates that Mr. Parker be made permanent chairman. On motion, Chairman Gatter named E. W. Lewis, George D. Christy and Charles E. Arnold, to confer with the candidates, who were present, in an effort to select a third man, suitable to all parties. That committee brought the name of Jim McClintock before the committee, and the tension relaxed so hard that it could almost be heard.

McClintock was elected by acclamation, as was Howard B. Claffin as secretary. A. R. Gatter was chosen treasurer of the county central committee. The day before, in the state central committee meeting, Col. McClintock was elected treasurer of the state committee, with Wm. C. Foster, assistant.

Cloonan Makes Address
While awaiting the report of the nominating committee, the assemblage heard J. Harrie Cloonan of Red Rock, candidate for corporation commissioner. Mr. Cloonan made a very short talk, setting forth his confidence in republican victory, and announcing his form.

Aside a number of routine matters, the committee, this time assembled legally for the first time, ratified the action of the meeting of last Thursday in naming twenty-four members of the state central committee.
